

Football: Freaks v. Pigs

The freaks played football with the pigs Sunday afternoon in the stadium and beat them six touchdowns to one. At left, John Towle (center), Chief of Security at the University, stands with two other players on the campus police team looking pretty unhappy with the way the game is going. Below, the game was flag football and the long-hairs try to make a tackle by tearing the flag from the pig quarterback's hip.

photos by meadows

